Experience

Programmer / Analyst | Berkshire Hathaway Shoe Holdings | September 2022 - Present

- Build out and maintain a complex Warehouse Management System(WMS) designed to track, store and analyze large quantities of both real-time and archived data.
- Write documentation for the current environment.
- Design, architect and write WMS 2.0 based on documentation written for the current system.
- Daily responsibilities: Operations programming – we write both ad-hoc and planned programs ranging from automation and data-extracts to applications that run on scanner guns.
- Design and leveraged algorithms in real time to correct workflow mistakes, bad data and missing shipment or inventory information.
- Identify and correct data that is missing or incomplete, which is generally done via utility programs which are custom-written for each request. The utilities' job is to read through our data tables and find the anomalous records / data in question.
- Work with floor-operators to learn job responsibilities and workflows to better understand software needs..

Junior eCommerce Developer | Hall Internet Marketing | November 2021 - August 2022

- Responsible for overhauling repositories with updated configurations for automation of CMS updates.
- Regular testing of sites to identify and remove PHP errors, as well as updating PHP versions to improve website speed and security.
- Custom configuration of products / services specific to needs and vision for each website.
- Work with national companies to conditionally restrict services and offerings depending on geolocation data.
- Implement custom solutions with PHP, JS, HTML/ CSS as needed.

Website Support Manager | Links Web Design | April 2021 - October 2021

- Manage 200+ Wordpress, Joomla, Prestashop websites and ecommerce sites across 25 servers.
- Utilize AGILE practices to manage a team of developers by addressing developmental requests based on timeframe to complete, as well as workload and available skill sets across the team.
- Write and test code for Wordpress Themes using PHP and Bootstrap to implement added functionality where customization is needed.
- Build, customize and maintain Woocommerce stores.
